2008 Winter Course Brochure

A series of Horticulture Classes and Events will be held throughout the winter at Cornell Cooperative Extension of Broome County (CUCE-BC).

Designated evenings will provide opportunities to share gardening knowledge, and meet and talk with our staff and Master Gardeners. All classes will meet in the Cornell Cooperative Extension building. Come join us for these fun and informative sessions.

Make a Pressed Flower Book Mark

Tuesday, January 29

6:00 p.m.

CCE-BC Auditorium

$10.00 per person

Make your own pressed flower book mark under the tutelage of Master Gardener and renowned pressed flower artist Sally Shumaker. Mrs. Shumaker has won numerous awards for her pressed flower art, including a blue ribbon at the Philadelphia Flower Show. Learn the basics of this art so that you can make your own pictures, greeting cards, gifts and more. Pre-registration is required. Class size is limited to 30.

Plant Propagation

Thursday, February 7

Guest Lecturer Lee Nelson

$15.00 per person

Have you ever wondered through a friend's garden, admired a plant and wished you had that plant in your own garden? Join us as we learn the principles and techniques of plant propagation.

Discussion will include saving and starting your own seeds and taking cuttings and layering of both woody and herbaceous plants.

All techniques are geared toward the homeowner with no greenhouse or special equipment required.

New and Beginning Farmer Workshop

Saturday, February 9

9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

CCE-BC Auditorium

$15.00 per person & $10.00 per person

from the same family/farm

Are you interested in starting an agricultural enterprise but don't know the first place to start? Have you heard about raising alpacas or growing vegetables using low tunnels for profit but don't know how to get started? Come to an all day training and resource fair at Cornell Cooperative Extension-Broome County, Saturday February 9th, to get these questions and more answered. There will be over 15 organizations at the resource fair and three sets of breakout sessions where you can learn about all sorts of agricultural enterprises and speak with experienced farmers. All attending families/farms will receive a free "Guide to Farming in NYS; What Every Ag Entrepreneur Needs to Know" courtesy of the NY Beginning Farmer Project and Cornell Cooperative Extension. The price is $15 per person and $10 for each person from the same family/farm. Lunch and refreshments will be provided. For more information, or to sign up, please contact Susan at (607) 584-9966.

Bus Trip:

Philadelphia Flower Show: JAZZ IT UP!

Tuesday, March 4 (Snow Day March 5)

The New Orleans French Quarter comes to life this year as the Philadelphia Horticultural Society presents "JAZZ IT UP!" Enjoy daily parades and performances of toe-tapping jazz music as the Philadelphia Flower Show spotlights the newest designs for your home. The 2008 Philadelphia Flower Show will give visitors a premier showcase of the latest trends in floral and garden design, featuring ingenious uses of plants, flowers and home décor in a series of spectacularly decorated rooms along a corridor lit by floral chandeliers. Bus leaves from the Cracker Barrel Parking Lot at 7a.m. Price includes ticket to the show and bus. There will be a brief morning stop and a dinner stop. Registration deadline in February 19.

Perennials Favorites

Thursday, March 6

Guest Lecturer Lee Nelson

$15.00 per person

Every year we are bombarded with ads, catalogs and promotions for new perennials to try in our gardens. If you are a plant collector with deep pockets, fine. BUT? are they really better than what we already have. maybe some of them are.

Lets look at which perennials are really worth growing, how to grow them, and how best to fit them into your garden.

Horticulture School II

Extending the Season

Thursday, March 20

Guest Lecturer Lee Nelson

$15.00 per person

Most of us think of the last frost date as a time when the garden comes alive. Spring bulbs add early color but what about the other garden ephemerals that bring color into the garden, often as the snow melts. Join us as we learn more about these cold hardy plants that bring early color and extend the seasonal interest.

"Tools of the Trade"

Tuesday, April 22

6:00 - 8:00 p.m.

CCE-BC Auditorium

$6.00 per person

Join Cornell Cooperative Extension-Broome County Master Gardeners for this unique workshop in which they will demonstrate tools that they find indispensable in their garden work. From the painfully simple to the expensive, complicated and just plain bizarre, you are bound to find a tool that will fill a need and fit the budget. Feel free to share your own experiences with garden tools and bring one to show and tell at this fun, informative workshop.
